Preface

Most students and teachers think that the word "Worksheet" is a synonym for the word "Boring." We envision hours of sitting still at a desk-silent busy working for them and hours of grading for us. But worksheets still have a place in your classroom? In an age of open inquiry and problem-based learning, your child can still find power in a simple paper and pencil activity by practicing MENTORSBASKET WEEKLY worksheets.

Achievers Model bring to your child an opportunity to develop academically as well as for the competitive World. The Learning Process of every child is dependent on One's Ability to think logically and reason Quickly and effectively. These two factors are hence very crucial to a child's progress in education.

Mentors Basket Achievers weekly workbook covers Mental Math, Smart English, Interesting Facts and Brain Boosters. These Powerful worksheets can help in building number sense, computational thinking, and problem-solving skills in your child at beginning of the foundational years. Every Month we would be providing 3 Workbook and 1 Challenge Workbook, each of these are designed at different levels and standard wise. We would be providing upgraded workbooks, that makes the child to look forward to challenges. Weekly Workbook would be consisting of the following content:

It is a unique way to provide differentiated brain-building work for different learners.

Strong Foundation Helps to Build Brighter Future

Design Framework

The Sample Workbook Consist of the topics as under:

- Mental Maths - We want our students to be able to understand content and concepts. We also want to stretch them to think and approach problems in new ways. This editable graphic organizer can help them do that! Challenge the students to solve a math problem more than one way. Have them explain how and why they solved it with their given strategy. Over time, we can see how mathematics can be transformed into a subject that is not only fun but also challenges students' creativity and independent thinking.
- Smart English - The study of English Language Arts, or speaking, listening, reading, and writing, is critical both to academic success and to life beyond school. Without the skills learned in language arts, students cannot achieve any kind of mastery in any of their coursework. Good communication skills are necessary for every career field, so these on-demand workbooks give your students the mixed review of grammar, spelling, and writing skills that will enable them to practice their language arts skills in a fun and diverting manner, ensuring that the skills they have learned will Supplement their language.
- Brain Boosters – The students need to be aware of what is happening Locally, Nationwide as well as Globally and what can be more challenging to the brains then answering some General Knowledge. We have designed worksheets that will give them an edge in competitive exams as they are more aware of the information.
- Interesting Facts - Academically we tend to focus more on the book knowledge, so now we want the child to be introduced to some interesting facts that can help them lead a discussion or lead in debates , competition and be a PRO kid. These interesting facts will increase their limited area of knowledge and make them more competitive and smarter.

1. Oops. Thi story contains lots of errors. Find them and fix the eroors in this story before answering the questions.

I Am an Immigrant

Hola! My name is Isabella. I was born in Juarez, Mexico. I have a mother and a father. I also have two older brother, Juan and Paco. In Juarez, we lived on a farm. had I hadd a baby goat named Tico Toco. My father worked hard on the farm. He planted corn. He tended the cows and sheep. He was always busy.

Last year the storms came. They lasted from the spring through the summer. My father could grow no crops. He had to sell the animals so that we would have money for food. He also had to sell the tuh farm. He said that we would move to America. My uncle Lives in California. he said that my father would be able to find a job in California.

We packed all of our belongings and set off for California. When we reached the border, we had to stop. The men at the border asked us many questions. My father told the men that we were moving to America to work. He had to show the men many papers. One was a letter from my uncle. He had to tell the men that a job was waiting for my father. After what seemed like a long time, we were allowed to go across the border.

We traveled for miles. One time, our old car began to slow down. Steam came out from under the hood. We had to stop and find water for the radiator.

When we reached my uncles house, there was much shouting and laughter. My uncle was very glad to see us. he had not seen my father in almost ten years. He had never seen my brothers and me. He gave us all big bear hugs. Tears of joy were in his eyes.

My uncle lives in an apartment in a large building. His home is very nice and very clean. But there is no grass. There is no place to run and play. There is only concrete and fences.

My uncle speaks Spanish when he is with us. He speaks English when he leaves the apartment. I do not know very much English. It is hard for me to understand what other people are saying. Sometimes I think they are talking about me. It makes me feel sad.

My father says that just as soon as he can get a good job, we will find a place to live on our own. I hope he finds a job soon. It is very crowded in my uncles' apartment. I found a place on the roof of the apartment building where I can go to read. It is the only place I can find to be by myself.

My father says that things will get best. He says that as long as we can stay together we will be all right. I hope so. I still get scared. Everything In California is strange to me. I miss our farm. Most of all, I Miss Tico Toco.

My mother says that I must start to school soon. She says that I will learn to speak English in my new school. She says that I will make a lot of new friends in my new school. I am not so sure. I wonder if the children in the new school will like me. I hope they give me a chance to be their friend. My mother says that I must be a friend to make a friend. I will try very hard to make that true.

My father says that just like birds need to fly to a new place to escape the cold of winter, we had to fly to a new place to start a new life. I like to think of myself as a bird. They migrate to a warm climate. I have immigrated to a safe home.

I Am an Immigrant
